COOLING & WARMING

APPLICATION

To be used as a doping-free (in Sweden) massage liniment for the horse's muscles, joints, and tendons, offering an initial cooling sensation followed by a warming effect.

- Dual-action liniment: cools, then warms
- Effortless and smooth application
- Ideal for massaging muscles, tendons and joints

Eclipse Biofarmab Liniment Red is a doping-free, dual-action liniment, designed specifically for the sports horse. It offers an initial cooling effect that transitions into a warming sensation, targeting muscles, tendons, joints, and ligaments.

This liniment's versatility makes it highly effective on both the softer muscular areas and the denser structures of tendons, joints, and ligaments. It is gentle enough for frequent use.

Applying Liniment Red before physical activities serves as an excellent preparatory measure, warming up the muscles ahead of the physical warm-up, thus facilitating better preparation and swift recovery.

Its dual-action properties initially mitigate any internal bleeding, with the cooling effect preventing further escalation. Subsequently, as the cooling sensation subsides, the warming action encourages circulation of fresh, healthy blood to aid in healing the injury.

It is advised to use this product without bandages.

Ensure the product is kept out of children's reach and avoid contact with eyes and sensitive skin. Avoid use on open wounds or damaged skin to prevent irritation.
